THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Your Uncle Samuel cannot mine gold and sell it on the world market, but apparently his new born child, the Philippines can, and will, in the very near future. Following is a report appearing in the New York Journal of Commerce, to which our attention was called by G. Raymond Clinch of Grass Valley.

FREE FILIPINO GOLD EXPORTS PREDICTED

Island Regime May Allow Sales Above Present $35 Quotation

The Philippine Government, will shortly permit the free export of gold and its uncontrolled sale in the world market, private advices from Manila yesterday indicated.

Heretofore gold mined in the Philippine Islands has been sold at the statutory price of $35 per ounce, although the total amount since the end of hostilities is understood to be negligible. Miners, who are attempting to rehabilitate have urged the government to permit them to sell their production freely.

It is expected that permission to sell gold on the world market might result in the receipt of prices above $45 an ounce. Recent reports of dealings on the black market in Shanghai have featured prices as high as $70 an ounce as hoarders sought safety for their funds in hard money.

Need Foreign Exchange

Miners have argued that sales for higher prices would provide the Philippines with much needed foreign exchange to pay for imports. Since the government's currency reserve consists of American dollars, the gold would not be needed for that purpose.

A large part of current imports, it is understood, have been financed through reduction of dollar balances in this country, and the freeing of gold sales, it is said, would lessen this drain..

The New York Herald Tribune has the following comment to make regarding the logic of such a move, since the Philippines are much in need of dollar exchange.

Philippint Gold

According to reports in financial circles, the Philippine government will permit free export of gold from the islands. However, though these reports are believed correct both the United States Treasury Department and the Philippine Embassy said they have no information as to such a move. Observers stated that the reason for the Philippine decision is the substantially higher prices in American dollars paid in certain areas of Asia and the Near East for gold which the natives of these regions are hoarding, as compared to prices paid in this country. SAFETY

GRASS VALLEY: A Nevada County Safety Council was organized Wednesday noon at a meeting at the Holbrooke Hotel. Frank Muncie is chairman of the council, which is sponsored by the Grass Valley chamber of commerce and includes membership in the Nevada City chamber.

S. K. Collins, of the State Highway department spoke on the responsibilities of organizing a safety council. He recommended, the formation of five committees, to direct special activities. The committees are: fact finding, traffic planning,. traffic regulation enforcement and education.

It is planned that the traffic planning committee will be first instituted, because of the existence of hazardous traffic conditions. Truckee civic leaders will be invited to participate in the program together with Nevada City and Grass Valley citizens. The next meeting will be held as soon as appropriate factual information is gathered.

Among those present at the meeting were. A. E. Wharff, Herbert Hallet, Max Flindt, Dr. Daniel L. Hirsch, Gilbert Tennis, Kenneth Manuel, William H. Stinson, Mary Peterson and Ray J. Kronemyer.

Captain Joseph Blake of the California Highway Patrol introdced the speaker..

Tito Guizar And Troubadors To Entertain In Sacramento

Two of the most widely anticipated musical events of the year are the concert to be given by Tito Guizar and his Troubadors Sunday eveinng, March 2; and the appearance of the First Piano Quartet on Wednesday evening, March 5, under the Ware-Hazelton and Sacramento Music Series banners. Both events will be presented at the Memorial auditorium, 16th and J Streets.

Tito Guizar, of radio, motion picture and stage fame, comes to the west coast direct from a successful engagement with his entertainers at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York. The program of Latin American music and dances will feature the Spanish dance team; Estela and Julio; the oncert pianist Carlos Sinvedo; and the Mexican Tipica Sinfoneta with Chito Montoya former conductor of the Mexico City Tipica Orchestra..

The First Piano Quartet, consisting of Adam Garner, Vladimir Padwa, Frank Mittler, and Edward Edson, is a four piano concert combination which originally attracted nation-wide attention on the NBC network and more recently in the concert field. A feature of the performance will be the presentation of four musicians which outside of Bach's Vivaldi concerto and Stravinsky's Les Noces is little known.

Tickets for Tito Guizar and his Troubadors and for the First Piano quartet, are available now at the Ware-Hazelton box office, Weinstock-Lubin's, Sacramento.

TO HEAR BEALE OFFICER SPEAK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

GRASS VALLEY: Next meeting of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce will be Wednesday, March 5, at the Bret Harte Hotel at the usual hour of 12:15. The Public Relations Officer of Camp Beale will address the forum meeting on the army's proposed compulsory military training program..

Executive Manager Ray J. Kronemyer, in behalf of the Chamber has extended an invitation to all members of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce to attend the meeting..

RED CROSS DRIVE STARTS ON MONDAY

NEVADA CITY: Full cooperation of the Parent Teacher's Association in the Red Cross drive was assured Tuesday at meeting of the PTA executive committee headed by Mrs. Lenore Coughlin. The PTA will solicit collections in the residential districts.

The drive will start Monday morning and will continue for a week. The quota to be raised in Nevada City is $3686. While this is a substantial reduction from the war time high of $10,000 collected in 1944 it is essential to the Red Cross program that the quota be met.

Evidence that thousands of soldiers are still in uniform and in hospitals is shown in the high percentages of the quota that will be spent on military affairs.

SOROPTIMISTS HEAR RED CROSS EXECUTIVE

Proof that the Red Cross continues as a vital peace time agency was given in an interesting half hour talk before the Soroptomists Club yesferday at the National Hotel by Miss Ruth Young, from the Red Cross in San Francisco..

Miss Young spoke from the experience gained after two and a half years spent as a Red Cross worker in Europe as assistant director of personnel in the European theater. In her talk she covered three phases of Red Cross activity—its work during war—its work with the army of occupation and its work on the home front.

"In many ways the Red Cross is serving a more important function with the army of occupation than with the army of liberation" said Miss Young, who served with both. "The excitement of war is gone and the Red Cross must fill in the vacuum of boredom," explained the speaker. The very young American youth overseas today is provided through the Red Cross every possible type of recreational activity. The Red Cross as in the time of war is the communication link between the soldier overseas and his family at home.

Miss Young stated that while she had worked for the Red Cross for a long time she did not realize the wide scope of home front activities until she returned from overseas last December. After getting into home front activities she mentioned only a few of the many good things it does such as emergency accident stations along well travelled highways, assist in programs to veterans, and the very complete program carried on in veterans hospitals.

The speaker finished her well received remarks with the thought of world peace that can be fostered through League of Red Cross Societies and the good that can be gained in understanding of each other's problems in this troubled world through the Red Cross ideals and the common service of welfare to mankind.

Mrs. Grace La Rue was program chairman for the noon time meeting of the Soroptomists. A guest of the club and potential member 20 years from now was Miss Sherra Lee Skalisky, aged 5 months and daughter of member Betty Skalisky.

PTA WARS ON DISEASE, INSTALLS GERMICIDAL LAMPS IN SCHOOL

NEVADA CITY: Seven germicidal lamps are operating to kill disease germs at the elementary school. The expensive new G. E. bacteria killers have been bought by the elementary school Parent Teacher Association, headed by Mrs. Miles D. Coughlin.

Rays of thelamp are harmful to the human eye, should they strike it directly. For this reason, the lamps are installed seven feet above floor level, with their reflectors directed upward and outward. In appearance, they resemble fluorescent fixtures, with long, translucent tubes.

Principal Lloyd Geist reports that careful records on incidence of colds and absences due to illness will be kept in order to check the effectiveness of the disease preventive lamps..

Three of the lamps are installed in each of two classrooms, and one in the clinic. This same type of lamp has been used in hospitals to prevent the spread of contagious diseases.

HISTORICAL POTTERY PIECE GIVEN MUSEUM

Gifts and loans relating to Nevada County 1850-1890 are being received by the Nevada County Historical Society for the relic museum located in the old fire house on Main Street. Latest addition was a pottery piece made in the old Nevada City Pottery works. This was given by Fred Cassidy and Grace Englebright.

While the museum is not officially open as yet, local residents can see displays now on the upper floor by getting the key from Harold Berliner next door.

It is hoped that some arrangements can be made to keep the museum open every day in the spring and summer months. An official opening called "Relic Night" is scheduled for April 3rd.

Hundreds of pictures, relics of early days are being placed in racks and cases on floor two while it is hoped to save the first floor for heavier articles.

Local residents are encouraged to loan or give items.

WRESTLE FOR PAC COAST CHAMPION MONDAY NIGHT

GRASS VALLEY: Bill Hansen and Tom Rice will contend for the Pacific Coast Heavyweight Championship Monday night in the main event at Veterans Memorial Hall, Monday night. Hansen, of Salt Lake, is champion. He tips the scales at 240 pounds while Tom Rice weighs 225.

Semi-finalists will be champion of the islands Hans Busing from Honolulu, weighing in at 215 pounds and Mickey Casey, the Pide of Dublin at 225 pounds..

In the preliminary, Mike Browning of Kansas City battles Kay Vell, ex-Washington State Gridder. Admission prices have recently been lowered for the bouts, which are under the jurisdiction of the State Athletic Commission.

UNITED SERVICES COUNCIL HEARS YMCA EXECUTIVES

GRASS VALLEY: The United Services Council, youth recreation activity of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night at the Emmanuel Episiopal Parish Hall. Dr. Daniel L. Hirsch president of the Grass Valley chamber of commerce, and chairman of the committee presided..

Principal speakers at the meeting were E. A. Byron regional YMCA executive and Rudy Allbrecht, also a YMCA officer.. They spoke of the advantages of the "Y" system and of the need of a full time director of youth activities.

A large delegation of Nevada Cityans attended the meeting, including John M. Lewis, Mrs. Mary Have, Mrs. Carl J. Tobiassen, Harold Berliner, Mrs. Adelaide S. Elliott, Katherine Larsen, Jacqueline Sheldon, Emily Williams, Rev. Joseph W. Moore, Miles D. Coughlin, Helen Schreiber and Don Eden.

Several of the high school students present gave their own point of view on the youth recreation sitpation, saying that their own activities included a constant whirl of school and social life, and that they viewed further activtities as unnecessary. Comment was made however that the type of youth with the initative and interest to attend youth receation meetings was least in need of further organized recreation.

Ray J. Kronemyer spoke on his experience with a youth program in Flindt, Michigan, where a highly troublesome youth delinquency problem was completely solved by an intelligent program, whereby the initiative for carrying out the program was assumed by the youngsters themselves.

PASSAGE OF ORDINANCE UNLIKELY MASS MEETING IS AN ANTICLIMAX

GRASS VALLEY: At a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office yesterday morning, Tahoe National Forest Supervisor Guerdon Ellis informed a group of civic leaders and lumbermen that the Forest Service would not press for the passing of the proposed Nevada County slash and millwaste disposal ordinance.

Ellis's action made an anti-climax of the mass meeting of about 200 lumbermen and interested citizens who gathered in Veterans Memorial Hall last night at 8 p. m. to voice opposition to the proposed ordinance.

Ray J. Kronemeyer executive manager of the chamber of commerce, called together a group of civic leaders, lumbermen, and forest service officials to discuss the proposed ordinance, at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the chamber office.

The group met at 10 a. m. William Dunbrow, chairman of the chamber of commerce forest and lumbering committee, presided. In addition to Kronemeyer, Ellis and Durbrow, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Frank Rowe, Supervisor Warren Odell, Clari Ivey, Carl Howe, George Hallock, W. F. Sharp and John Ambler attended the meeting.

Ellis' action made an anti-climax of the widely publicized mass meeting attended last night by about 200 lumbermen and interested citizens who gathered in Veterans Memorial Hall at 8 p. m. to voice opposition to the proposed ordinance. It was understood at the morning conference that, since the foest service had withdrawn its support for all but two items of the ordinance, the board of supervisors was not disposed to pass it.

Forest Supervisor Ellis was the first and principal speaker at the mass meeting last night. He explained the reason for withdrawal of forest service support for the proposed measure. A duplication of state and county regulation would result from passing the proposed "drastic" ordinance, he said. This occurred, because state legislation, pending for two years on slash and millwaste disposal, appeared likely to go into effect in the near future..

The state legislation is largely self-regulatory, said Ellis, depending on the lumbering industry itself for part of its promulgation and enforcement. Stating that his organization wished to avoid this duplication, Ellis said that the forest service would, nevertheless seek passage of two items in the original measure..

These provided or fire suppression measures for cabins in forest areas, and for clearing of brush in a 30 foot radius of all gasoline tanks and supplies.. The measures affecting cabins required clearing brush around them and proper safety meaures for chimneys and flues.

His views on the duplication of the ordinances, he said, were shared by State Forester DeWitt (Swede) Nelson, former Tahoe National Forest Supervisor..

Ellis asked the group for endorsement of the two features of the ordinance which the forest service still supports, so that when the Board of Supervisors holds their open meeting on the ordinance on Mach 4th, public sentiment would be clear. Feeling among the gathered lumbermen, however, seemed to be predominantly against the two measures.

Ray J. Kronemyer acted as chairman of the meeting. Frank G. Finnegan and Clair Ivey acted to conduct the open meeting discussion which followed Ellis's address.

William Davis,, retired Naval commander now ranching in Indian Flat, said that he was opposed to any ordinance that would require him to keep his oil tank thirty feet from his home. It was stated this was not a requirement of the ordinance.

Final action on the proposed ordinance will be taken by the Board of Supervisors after the open meeting which they have scheduled March 4th to hear public opinion on the matter. It appeared likely in the light of Wednesday's developments that the board would not pass the ordinance.

NEWMONT CO. INCREASES ITS HOLDINGS

Newmont Company and American Metal Company have together purchased the Otavi Mine, a former lead and zinc German owned property in South West Africa for $4,-0940,000.

It is said that the cost of dewatering and re-equipping the mine will be in the neighborhood of 4 million dollars.

Newmont has also recently acquired a large lead and zinc producer in Morocco, near the Albanian border in North Africa. Neither property is expected to be in production unil 19.49.

With lead and zinc near the head of list of scarce metals and selling at 12 1-2 cents, where they were formerly 6, and copper at 20 cents, the mining of the base metals is far more attractive than the mining of gold, or silver.

Newmont recently increased its dividend from $1.66 to $2.00 per year..

1000 YEARS

Adolph Hitler came to power on January 30, 1933. The reich he built during the next dozen years with blood and the bludgeon was to last 1000 years, according to him.) Fourteen of those years have now passed into history. But the time table has gone wrong. Hitler's reich is dead—physically, at least. And so is Hitler, if we can believe the accepted reports. The German people are now expriencing their second bitter dose in less than three decades for attempting world conquest. They blame Hitler. (It's convenient). They also blame the world for not "understanding" German aims. But in the final analysis they have no one to blame but themselves. Hitler was a product of the German national mentality. Until that mentality is greatly changed the German people will seek another "sviour" and will plunge the world into armed conflict again—unless the other nations see to it that they never get another chance. And the nations had better see to it.—Contributd.

AUDIT NEW DEAL?

There is merit in the suggestion of Senator Robertson of Wyoming that an audit of all federal spending from 1933 to 1946 be undertaken. If such an audit could be done for the $10 million he proposes to authorize for it, it would be money well spent. For one thing, we might find out, just what it has become of some of the billions of dollars which congress provided the executive department under blank check arrangements. Of course, the fantastic sums that were kicked around in the days of squndermania can't be recovered now but the people are entitled to know the whole story instead of only a very small part of it. This idea of an outside audit of the government books should be made a regular annual practise. It will help to prevent a good deal of the "carelessness" that so often creeps in to the handling of government funds. And it's about time anyway, for government operations to be put on a real businesslike basis.—Contributed..

BROAD STREET

By Donald Robert Paine

Dear Former Resident:

This is the comings and goings on the main drag of your old home town. Some of you get a chance to come home over the 4th or on Memorial Day. Most of you however, living a long ways from here can only take a memory trip while dreaming in front of the fire place in the big city. Would you like to take a little trip from the Plaza to the Methodist Chursh while we tell you of the changes that have taken place since you went away?

Couples still rest their elbows on the iron railing of the bridge and gaze at the beauty down Deer Creek. In the winter time when the snow clings to the trees you will always find an amateur photographor snapping the scene and in the summer time an intinerant artist is sure to be found with his brush and canvas painting the scene. On the first space near the bridge Gene Barberie is busy as usual putting in his flower garden.

As it was when you left Broad is a street of small shops and business activity. You can close your eyes and tell by the smells your location. There is the pungent odor of hot rubber in the recapping plant of Johnson and Rickard, the stench of hot furnace and oil in the Hot Mill where drills for Mother Lode mining are sharpened. Further up the street the tantalizing odor of fresh bread and pasties pours out from our two bakeries. You can smell hot dogs and mustard in the short order "Dog House."

Most of you former residents always say "Some day I'm going back to Nevada City." Well two at least have made good their promises. George Murphy bought the National and Charlie Veale bought Colley's which used to be Tegler's. Speaking of the National—where you used to mail your letters you can now buy a drink and where you used bank your money in the same building you can now buy antiques.

There is a photo shop where the old Lace House used to be. Bill Home's picture is now on display. Bill owns a clothing store next door. Bill came here from Scotland many years ago,, became a happy successful merchant and of course will never leave. Lots of people like Bill, have discovered Nevada City and our town is rapidly being populated by big city people who are a little tired of the rush and the crush of Market or Wilshire. All of our new merchants take an active interest in the town—newcomers like George Hansen, who runs a paint store and is our new Chamber President and Harry Clayton, salesman who heads the newly formed Lions. Lots of the people who built their cozy cottages in the surrounding pine clad hills call this paradise—"The Carmel of the Mountains."

Most of the characters that were around when you lived here still sun themselves in front of the Alpha or by the bank. You can pick up the latest news in Young's or Larsen's barber shops or over a cup of coffee in the Shamrock Cafe. If you buy a short beer in Ramsey's you can roll the dice for the cumulative jack pot. Five straight wins and some times its gets pretty big. There is always a controversy going on as is true of all small towns. Right now they are worried over the fire hazard due to growing lumber industry.. And a mass meeting was held last night to discuss the matter. Kids still gather on the Union corner at night to hitch hike to Grass Valley. Their are rumors of a juvenile problem. You pays your money to park your car with ease or drive to some side street to gamble as you park for free.

On Saturday nights the crowd changes and the neon lights of a dozen gathering places cater to the noise loving juke box crowd. On Sundays all of the churches are filled. As usual Nevada City has a big heart and drives like the March of Dimes, Red Cross and Cancer always go over the top.

What keeps the old town going? Lumber, mines, tourists and new industries. And among the new industries we have two that you would never guess would be manufactured in Nevada City—juice extractors and poison oak remedy. Both the juice extractors and the poison oak remedy you will probably soon find on sale in your big city stores. Give a big hand to your old home town when your heart surges with pride when you read the label "Made in Nevada City, California."

We could tells you lots more. But better still plan to come back for a visit this summer..

THINKING OUT LOUD

ippines are very much in need of dollars and at the same time have reopened gold mining operations it would seem to be a logical time to foster export of gold to areas where the highest prices in dollars are paid, it was said.

If the U. S. were to lift the ban from gold exports one can well imagine the quick resumption of the gold mining industry in Nevada County and throughout the second congressional district in which practically all the hard rock gold mining is contained. The gold mining industry, which was stopped by govtrnmtnt edict during the war, could be immediately revived. Another alternative, to revive gold mining would be the reduction of taxes that weigh heavily on the industry..

Still another method which could prove a mighty boon to gold mining is to increase the price. If the price were increasd by 14 per cent or approximately $5 per ounce, making the statutory price $40 per ounce, 20 billions of gold at Fort Knox would be worth $2.8 billions more than they are now and the national debt could be whittled down by that much..

To this desk for several months there came glowing reports from our Democratic congressman, Clair Engle, on what he was doing for the gold mining interests in the second district. His solitary achievement to date has been getting a resolution through congress naming the dam at the Yuba Narrows, the Harry L. Englebright Dam.

Engle's activities with regard to gold mining have been particularly useless. Merely running to and fro, collecting the names of the big bureaucrats, and hurling them through mails to the press in the second district, showing what mighty company he keeps, still does nothing for gold mining. And with the Republicans now in the saddle, Engle becomes not only an expensive futility, he is nothing short of an anachonism, a wooden buggy wheel on the rubber tired car of progress.

In 1945, the fourteen California counties producing apples harvested 9,240,000 bushels valued at $19,404,000.

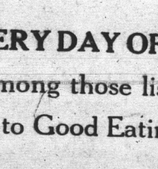

BURGLARS LOOT THREE HOMES

GRASS VALLEY: Three more residences, the police report, have been entered and ransacked for money. Not more than $10 it is estimated were obtained in the burglaries.

The three are the homes of Thomas J. Leary, South Auburn Street, Mrs. Samuel Best and Henry Prisk on Race Street. Entrance into each one was made by forcing a window. From the Best residence, the police state, the thieves obtained about $6 from an apartment on the upper floor occupied by a lessee.

Since adoption of its present charter January 8, 1932 San Francisco has balanced its municipal budget every fiscal year.

Prosperity Pattern

Switzerland is a small country without seacoast, without natural resources, without enough fields to produce her necessary food. The non-homogeneous people—one part speaking German, another French, and a third, Italian—add to her domestic difficulties.

Under these conditions, Switzerland should naturally be expected to be one of the very poorest nations in Europe. On the contrary, however, Switzerland had before the war, and has yet, the highest per capita wealth in Europe. This little country pays the best wages known in Europe and maintains the best living conditions for her workers. Why? How?

A Way and A Will

Why should a people with the least possibilities come out with the highest average wealth, highest wages, and best living conditions? Simply because Switzerland has the right formula for prosperity, plus the will to make the formula work. Switzerland is proof to the world that any nation can have prosperity. There are just three requirements.

1. Switzerland has a real republic, through which the citizens reserve to themselves real individual freedom. Nearly all laws touching the lives of the people are made locally in districts called "cantons," corresponding roughly to our states. Even the amount of income tax to be paid by the people of each canton is decided locally. Political responsibility is a reality. And real freedom of individual opportunity exists.

Ownership Pays Out

2. Switzerland has the right type of economy. All industry is privately owned and operated. Individual ownership of property is encouraged and protected. A high percentage of people own their own homes and their farms. Thrift is encouraged by both the local and national governments.

3. Switzerland has equal responsibility placed by law upon both labor and capital. Industrial peace is encouraged, both by local and national government. Industrial cooperation prevails throughout the nation.

Switzerland is living proof that these three conditions will bring prosperity to any country, regardless of the quantity of its natural resources. The Swiss do not put the eye of aggression on their neighbors, in a search for "living room." Content with their own mountains, they have found that the resources of individual freedom, sane economy, and hard work can give them all they want. These moral resources the Swiss can call their own.

Retain the Formula

France, adjoining, with plenty of natural resources and abundant fertile fields, should now be the most prosperous country in Europe. Instead she is one of the poorest. Her socialistic form of government, her nationalization of industry, and her industrial chaos have made prosperity impossible, despite natural resources. France hasn't the right formula.

America, for 150 years, has had the right formula. In our own land we have achieved the highest wages, and the best general living standards ever known. We have had the natural resources. But more important, we have treasured these same moral resources that have made the Swiss great. We have had freedom of opportunity. We have made the formula work. Shall we keep the formula and keep prsoperity, or desert the formula and revert to mediocrity for everybody?

OIL ON BRAKES

An oversupply of lubricant or incorrect lubricant in the differential housing may damage brake linings, when the oil level is too high, or the oil too thin, it may be forced past the rear axle grease retainers into the brake drums and onto the brake linings.

Veterans Administration now has about 130,000 employees eligible for veterans preference. They comprise 60 per cent of all VA employees.

ROSEVILLE TAKES TOURNAMENT, GRASS VALLEY WINS CONSOLATION

The Roseville Tigers defeated the Placerville, San Juan and Placer teams to take the Placer one day tournament Saturday.

Grass Valley lost a close game with Lincoln, but rallied and defeated Folsom and Nevada City to take the coisolation. In the consolation final, Ali made 37 points, missing only two of his field goal shots. Hawkins was high point man for Nevada City with 8 points.

OUTSTANDING PLAYER, ALL STAR TEAM CHOSEN

Albert Ali, of Grass Valley, was chosen the most outstanding player of the tournament. He was also chosen for the all-star team along with Peter Daley of Grass Valley, George Manhich and William Kolak of Roseville, Fred Besana of Lincoln, and Jack Coley of Nevada City. The reason six players were chosen is because the officials could not decide between Coley and Daley; so they put them both on the team.

NEVADA CITY LOSES CONSOLATION GAME

After barely losing a close game with San Juan at 12 noon Saturday, and taking an easy victory Placerville at 3 p. m.; Nevada City was too worn out to make much of a stand against the Grass Valley team that played its two preceding games at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. They put up a good fight at first, holding the score to 18-26 at half time, but by then they were too tired to successfully oppose the Grass Valley team that was really making those long shots.

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at those friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

ENGLE STILL TRYING TO AID GOLD MINING

WASHINGTON: A bill to permit the unrestricted sale and circulation of newly mined gold within the U. S. has been introduced by Rep. Clair Engle..

Engle said the measure had a two fold purpose:

y. To help free the gold mining industry from crippliug federal regulations..

2. To provide a possible outlet for investment purposes and thus stimulate the industry through an increased demand for gold.

It is not generally realized but gold mining is the only industry in the United States that is required to sell its product to one customer, the federal treasury at a fixed price which is often less than the cost of production," Engle asserted.

"By getting rid of present regulations that prohibit the possession and circulation of gold, the mining industry will be placed on a par with other industries and the gold miner can sell his product domestically, when and where he wants to", said the congressman.

Engle said he believed if gold is restored to circulation, many persons will "snap it up, even at premium prices."

"There never has been a more stable commodity on earth, and as a guard against inflation or deflation gold has no equal," Engle said.

The congressman said if his bill received favorable action he probably would follow up with a measure to permit the sale of newly mined U. S. gold anywhere in the world.
